To make this transition period easy, parents can follow these simple suggestions:

1. Make the child aware of the school being an essential part of his/her routine.
2. Talk to him/her openly about the school, the teachers, the activities done etc at home.
3. Never sneak out when you are dropping the child at the school entrance, do make sure to say a proper goodbye along with the assurance of picking him/her when the school gets over.
4. Have faith in the school and the staff as we are here for the betterment of the children.
5. Your little cooperation and our mutual efforts will not only help the children smoothly glide through this phase but would also largely help in making them confident and an independent individual.
